TO-DAY.

We trust no Republican will willingly atay away from the Poils to-day. The privilege of deciding such questions as are to be decided to-day by the peaceful mathod of the ballot ought to be very dear to all intelligent citizens. That they will continue to cherish the privilege and perform the high duty it mposes is the only guarantee we have for the continuance of the Republic.

We believe Grant and Colfax will b ed to day with or without the vote of West Virginia; and that West Virginia will give them her vote with or without Ohio county. We suppose one of our readers will agree with us in this opinion. Yet we all be mistaken; for there might be enough to stay at home by reason of this confidence to change the result. Ten days sgo West Virginia gave the Republican State ticket over 4500 malority. We are accustomed to think of his as a majority that cannot be over Yet it would be if only about ten of our voters in every township tayed at home; or if five stayed at ome and five more of our opponent ame out. And how easily this might happen by a little extra indifference on our part and a little extra diligence on country where parties are so equally divided. If the Republicans all over the United States to-day are as diligent s they ought to be, Grant will probably carry three-fourths of the States; and we are apt to think of a majority like this as overwhelming. Yet what mall changes in each State might yield We are accustomed of late to regard

But just here is where we may learn from our enemie The party hold of the Democratic leaders upon their adherents is so much stronger than ours, their rank and file so much more obedient, so much better trained, that upon short notice they are man. If we count on their demoralization, or presume there will be apathy in their ranks to-day, we shall probably be mistaken. They expect to be beaten in the State and in the country, but they will do their best none the less. If they are beaten it will not be their

THE PROSPECT FOR TRIDAY.

The Detroit Tribune gives a review of the canvass in the several States, and the prospects. We condense its statement in regard to the political outlook:

"Mississippi, Texas and Virginia may amuse themselves by going through the form of an election, but the question as to whether they will or not has importance. The States which will choose electors alone are Vermont, Maine, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and effort which should be devoted to the effective work of the or senting the source of the consequence is that half the time and effort which should be devoted to the effective work of the or senting the source of the consequence is that half the time and effort which should be devoted to the effective work of the or senting them. The Detroit Tribune gives a review of ment in regard to the political outlook:

"Mississippi, Texas and Virginia may amuse themselves by going through the form of an election, but the question as to whether they will or not has ceased to possess the slightest practical importance. The States which will choose electors alone are Vermont, Maine, Pennsylvanis, Ohio, Indians, West Virginia, Nebrasha, Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, New Hampshire and Oregon. Of these all save Alabama, Connecticut, Georgia and Oregon are certain to choose Republican electors, and those named are doubtful with the chances in our favor. the State and a transfer of the Congressional district.

New York gave the Democrats fifty thousand majority last year, and they have made arrangements, by naturalization frauds, &c., to roll up an enormous vote in New York city. It will thus be seen that our friends are laboring under enormous disadvantages. As to the result in the State at large we are hopeful, but not over-confident, and the result in the State at large we are topeful, but not over-confident, and we do not expect to again carry all the Congressional districts that gave us majorities in 1866.

Massachusetts elects State officers and Congressmen. Everything will be carried by immense majorities, including the Fifth district.

Kentucky will give the Democratic national ticket a majorily of the most and the result is doubtfol. The Republicans hope to elect their gubernatorial candidate and carry three of the Congressional districts. They are making a spirited fight, but against heavy odds.

California is one of the doubtful states, and has latterly been claimed by the Democrats. We have hope of regaining the state, and of gaining at least one congressman.

Tennessee we shall certainly carry for General Grant, and we shall also elect our candidates in nearly all the Congressional districts. The state elects no state officers.

Maryland will give a large majority for Mr. Seymour, and we cannot carry more than two of the Congressional districts at the utmost.

The states of Arkansas, Louisiana, North Carolina and South Carolina elect congressmen next week, and we expect to carry all these states for General Grant, and to elect a majority of the congressmen.

Rhode Island will give a handsome Republican majority, and will re-elect Messrs, Jenckes and Dixon to the House of Representatives. Novada is laimed by the democrate, but may be properly considered as doubtful, with he chances in our favor.
Minnesota and Kansas are both satisfied only a large Republican

Minnesota and Kansas are both certain to give large Republican majorities, aithough we may lose a congressman in the Second Minnesota district on account of dissension there. G. G. Andrews is the regular candidate, but Ignatius Donnelly runs as an independent candidate.

Senatorial successors also depend upon the result in Massahusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New York, Teunessee, New Jersey and Wisconsin. Of the legislature of these nine states we are certain of six, and probably two more, with a fair chance

We have placed eighty-two votes as doubtful, and think that at least fifty-five of these are almost certain to be cast for the Republican candidates.

From the Philadelphia North American THE LAST DECISIVE STRUGGLE. The Demo-ratic party is now fighting its last desperate Presidential battle on the negro question. It has retreated from point to point, yielding nothing that was not fairly wrested members. All the prejudices and pas-sions known to human nature have been invoked in their behalf. reasons we have to present. Even if any of them would read and hear, their party associates prevent them by a system of persecution and tyranny which has been but too effectually employed during the recent canvass.

The only use of the organization and effort of a party during the heat of the contest, is to kindle the enthusiasm of its lukewarm adherants, to gain the support of the doubtful and hesitating, and on the day of election to get the support of the doubtful and hesitating. nd on the day of election to get out its

The Republican party, which intends

The Republican party, which intends the benefit and elevation of the whole people should not be limited in its wide purpose to these seasons and these classes. Its mission is to all men, and the avowed and prejudiced Democrat needs its effort most of all.

When can we reach such a man and make him listen to reason? If at all, only when his passions are cool, his head clear and his humor good; that is in the interval between elections. Then if ever he can sea the extravagance, corruption, oppression and crime of the Democratic party, and then it its that our organized effort should be made to show him these things.

That is just the time, when hitherto, we have failed to make any effort at all and have without concern seen the particular organization which included us, melt into nothing.

Shall it continue to be so? If not and we mean to secure West Virginia and gain Ohlo county to the free principles of Republicanism, this is the hour and gain on control to the ree principles of Republicanism, this is the hour to make the attempt.

It is proposed to form and incorporate in this city a Republican club which shall be alive and active while life and activity can be useful, which shall see that all are supplied with political information when they are in the mood to profit by it and which shall so maintain the party organization as to save the waste of time, labor and expense which invariably attend the opening of a campaign. If such a club were to provide a free reading room, liberally and judiciously supplied with newspapers and magazine.

and were to have occasional lectures from some of the-eloquent friends of our cause, it would wield a powerful influence for the right in our midst. Its reading room would be the resort and rallying point of earnest Republicans and a pleasant place for even Democrats who are willing to live and learn and do not believe that the sum of human wisdom is daily expressed in the Wheeling Register.

Many of the young men, the hope and strength of the parry and the country, would spend their evenings there in preference to the less improving scenes which now attract them. It influence on the community would be for good in other respects than politically.

Such a public society as is projected would carry on its work without eassation, and at periods when such work is most effective. It would be as ready to put forth its exertions at a charter or legislative election as in the choice of a President, and would be prepared to embrace every opportunity which may occur to labor for the good cause.

The plan on which the club has been projected is broad and popular. The shares are so low as to be within the

The plan on which the club has been projected is broad and popular. The shares are so low as to be within the shay reach of every one, while those whose means are more abundant, may, by subscribing for more than one share, aid in proportion to their abilities.

And while it may be unnecessary, it is not improper in this connection to remind the wealthier men among our friends of the manifold interest they have in every effort to educate and elevate politically those around them, When the founders of our institutions extended wide the privilege of suffrage, xtended wide the privilege of suffrage extended wide the privilege of suffrage, they in effect made property enter into bonds to make voters intelligent, because they are powerful, and to educat them that they may be just and doright. Can our men of means better discharge their duty tosolety or better subserve their own interest than by assisting this Republican club in its endeavor to make every voter an intelligent voter, so that the ballot he put ightened in the box shall express his own entightened ideas of right and wrong. om, its patriotism, its humanity, than an institution, whose power and dis-position for good shall be great? If they are beaten it will not be their fault. But if they are successful it will be ours, even in Ohlo county.

The first duty to-day of every man who would rather see Grant President than Seymour or Blair, is to vote that preference. His next duty is to see that his neighbors who are of like mind shall vote it too.

Republicans of Wheeling, it depends upon your exertions—to-day whether Ohlo county goes for Grant or Seymour. If her vote is cast for Horatlo Seymour and Frank P.
